

Dear Chair,

I have decided to resign from Corston Parish Council after serving as a councillor since 2018.

I joined the parish council because I wanted to make a contribution to my community. It's been a mostly happy and productive time, but unfortunately, the intimidation I've experienced at recent meetings has made me question the ability of our community to work together.

I find it saddening that anyone who volunteers to help their community should experience such behaviour.

I remain committed to contribute to our community positively, but sadly no longer as a parish councillor.

I wish the new chair and councillors all the best.

Katharine
